Morgan's Message

Hello PA C.A.R.!

I hope you are all having a t-rexi c year! I love seeing all the amazing things the societies are accomplishing. Elizabeth McKinney adopted a classroom affected by Hurricane Harvey, Towamencin had a bake sale for the Mountain Schools, Falling Spring is organizing a cemetery clean-up, and Colonel Thomas Hartley is planning to visit an historical mill. It's incredible to see how much the PA C.A.R. societies are doing!

October was a DINO-mite month for membership! Six societies hosted a Member Mash, and we had more than 20 prospective members attend the meetings. Continue to invite all your friends and tell them how much fun C.A.R. is!

I have had a fabulous time working with DAR and SAR this past month. I attended the Constitution Ball with my awesome escort Emerson Sites-Byers, State Second Vice-President, and gave greetings on behalf of PA C.A.R. The next day, I went to Pennsylvania Sunday at Valley Forge and the lovely memorial service. This fall, I also visited three DAR chapters to promote C.A.R.

Throughout these activities, I thought about how Seniors are so incredibly important to C.A.R. This November, PA C.A.R. is Thankful for our Seniors! Reach out to your sponsoring or local DAR, SAR, and SR chapters and tell them how much fun being a senior is. Be sure to also thank the seniors in your society for their work that makes C.A.R. possible.

As your society continues planning the year, please remember to look at the contests in both the national and state program packets. Learn about ancient history with Uncover the Past and colonial history with Browsing History. There are an amazing variety of programs this year!

Call or email me anytime to let me know what your Society is up to! I want to know about all the fun things you all are doing.

Keep up the DINO-mite work, PA C.A.R.!

Site's Scoop

PAC.A.R. Members and Seniors,

It's time to wish everyone Merry Christmas again! I hope that you have been having fun at your meetings and events and learning about our state and national projects. Our State President, Morgan Meer, has had a very busy fall traveling through the Keystone State to promote her project.

I had the pleasure to bring promote C.A.R. at the South Central PSSDAR District Luncheon and at other events throughout the state.

Our 74th State conference will be held on March 23rd and 24th in Cranberry, PA. The conference will be hosted by the Parkinson's Ferry Society. More information on the conference is included in this edition of the Kapers. Mark your calendars now and make reservations early! I wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season. PA C.A.R. will continue to Uncover the Past all the way to the National Convention in April!

Membership

Hello C.A.R. friends, families and future members.

I hope you are all enjoying this awesome Fall weather, the changing leaves and lots of candy!

Did your chapter participate in the Membership Mash challenge from our State President, Morgan Meer? It was a great way to conjure up interest and gain new members right?

Last month I was invited to visit the Towamencin Society and tour the Mercer Museum with them. They are really working hard to spread the word about C.A.R. and get new members. They make it look easy too! Way to go Towamencin! Everywhere they visit for meetings they are prepared with brochures and information on C.A.R. That way when a visitor asks about the group they can easily share the brochures and invite them to a meeting.

There are lots of opportunities to get the word out about C.A.R. be prepared like Towamencin Society.

I would love to visit your Society too. Please let me know when you have a meeting.

With the holidays right around the corner can you think of some fun meeting ideas that would get your guests wanting to come back for more C.A.R.?

Here are a few I can think of...

Invite guests to join with your chapter to tour a historic home decorated for the season.

Invite a friend to do a service project with your chapter.

How about a holiday cookie exchange using recipes from Colonial Williamsburg as a fun way to share history with friends and future members.

Let's get excited about Membership!

The more the merrier.

State Project

Historic Preservation - Three Ways to Succeed

I hope everyone is continuing to have a terrific year, by having fun and working hard to preserve our history. Of the many important parts of the C.A.R., preserving history is just one of them, and we should try to do our part. For example, Meadowcroft Rockshelter, the site of the PA C.A.R. State Project, has incredible historical value, and there are many historical opportunities to choose from there. Our Pennsylvania State Project, Uncover the Past with PA C.A.R., led by PA State President Morgan Meer, focuses on the importance of the Native Americans before the American Revolution, and how they helped to establish the land. Everyone has a duty to make sure this history is not forgotten, and investing in these historical landmarks can make sure they never fade away and are cherished forever.

Just as preserving the physical history of an object or place is important, preserving knowledge of documents is also important. This year's national project, Browsing History, focuses on this type of preservation. We are working to create an online database of information on James Monroe in order for his memory and actions not to be forgotten. National President Erin Moore leads our national society in the ongoing quest to preserve and keep the history of one of our Nation's Presidents, the last Founding Father.

Preserving history does not have to be at historical sites or of historical documents, but it can start in your own society. Everyone can preserve the history of their local society by helping to gain new members. By training others to become patriotic citizens and leaders, we can help to ensure that the history of our society is known to the future and our legacies can be upheld. Don't hesitate to invite your friends to meetings, as it can help C.A.R. continue in the future.

I hope that everyone can continue to preserve history somehow, and I look forward to seeing you all at the PA State Conference in March. We'll have a dino-mite time, and I can promise it won't be a train wreck.

Everett Meer
First Vice President

National Project

We are halfway through the Browsing History administration. Have you been learning about James Monroe and all of the James Monroe papers? Some of the ways to learn more about one of our Founding Fathers would be to go to your local library, transcribe the James Monroe papers, and by looking up James Monroe on the internet.

To get you started, here are a couple of interesting facts for James Monroe that I found:

1. James Monroe was born on April 28, 1768 in Westmoreland County, Virginia
2. James Monroe's father died when he was only 16, he then was expected to take care of his for four younger siblings.
3. He went to the school at the College of William and Mary
4. James Monroe's kids were named Maria, James, and Eliza
5. He was a member of the U.S. Congress and a Governor of Virginia
6. During his presidency he helped purchase the Louisiana Purchase.

American History

The American History committee focuses heavily on James Monroe. He is a very important person in the history of the United States as he was both a Founding Father and a president. He definitely was quite important in the making of the present USA.

He became president in 1817, being sworn into office as the fifth president of the USA and served until 1825, so he served a whole 8 years. He also was the last Founding Father to become president.

James Monroe was born of both French and Scottish descent in Westmoreland County, Virginia. He was a normal class farmer and fought in the Revolutionary War. He almost died in the Battle of Trenton after being shot in the shoulder by a musket. He ultimately survived the war and studied law under Thomas Jefferson from 1780 to 1783, later becoming a delegate in the Continental Congress. He took an active part in the new government he had just joined and opposed ratification, claiming it gave the central government too much power. Later in 1790 he was elected for Senate of the first United States congress. He later became a diplomat in France when the purchase of the Louisiana territory was happening.

The National Theme is "Browsing History" and the National Project is "James Monroe Online." This project is working toward the digitizing of President Monroe's writings so that we have greater knowledge of this Founding Father. You can learn more about James Monroe by visiting the national website and encouraging your Societies to raise funds for JMO.

Mountain Schools
By Taylor age 10
Towamencin Society, PA

Taylor gave a power point presenta on to the Towamencin Society and then we played Mountain School Bingo. Here is a picture of Allie and Bridget calling the bingo words and our bingo cards.

Mountain schools were started in remote places and where people lived in poverty because they had no jobs and there was no running water or electricity. The public schools were not east to get to because the roads were so poor.

The mountain schools help children improve their life and help children whose families are having a hard me or children who su er from dyslexia and cannot read.

Each of the schools has a special program to help their children. Tamassee's is "The A ercare Program", which helps students when they leave Tamassee. Berry College has the "LifeReady Campaign" which also helps them to get ready to leave. Crossnore has the "Miracle Scholars Program" which helps graduates who don't know what to do a er school. Hillside has the "Innova on Lab" which allows children who learn di er-ently to nker with equipment. The Hindman School helps children with dyslexia and has the "Appalachian Scholars Program to help them get ready for college or work. The Kate Duncan Smith DAR School has the "Work Scholarship Funds program which helps students who go onto college or trade schools.

Please make a contribu on to these wonderful schools. We had a bake sale and tombola ra at the Towamencin DAR Chapter mee ng and raised over $350 to donate to Towamencin Society projects, which include the Mountain Schools.

State Librarian

Book Review by your State Librarian, Grace, age 12. Grace is a member of the Towamencin Society.

As I read the book Sally Hemings by Footsteps African American History, these questions came to mind.

Who was Sally Hemings and why is she important?

Sally Hemings was a quadroon slave. In 1773, she was important because her name is linked to one of the most important men in American History, Thomas Jefferson, who she was owned by. She was his wife's half-sister and bore him several children.

What is the "speckled monster?"

The "speckled monster" is another name for the infectious disease smallpox. Smallpox causes pus-filled blisters. Many people died from the disease.

How did slaves gain their freedom in Virginia?

Not all African Americans were slaves in Virginia. Some slaves won their freedom by fighting against the British in the Revolutionary War in the Continental Army. Others learned a trade, such as a blacksmith and earned money to buy themselves out of slavery. Some African Americans could also afford to gain the freedom for their family! The final way slaves could gain their freedom was by manumission. This was a rare and special act by a slave owner who granted a slave freedom while they were still alive.

James Monroe—the last President Founding Father

By Mary Licciardello, Age 18, Parkinson's Ferry Society

James Monroe was the 5th President of the United States and the last founding father. In 1776, Monroe left the University of William and Mary only a year and a half to join the Continental Army and fight for independence from Great Britain in the American Revolutionary War. Later on in life James Monroe was a protégé of Thomas Jefferson and became a delegate to the Continental Congress. He also served as a U.S. senator, governor of Virginia, the secretary of state, and a minister to France and Great Britain. As president, Monroe oversaw major westward expansion of the U.S. and strengthened American foreign policy in 1823 with the Monroe Doctrine, a warning to European countries against further colonization and intervention in the Western Hemisphere. In 1803, he helped negotiate the Louisiana Purchase, which doubled the size of the U.S. at the time. When he was sworn into office on March 4, 1817, Monroe became the first U.S. president to have his ceremony outdoors and give his inaugural address to the public. By 1820, when he was reelected, receiving all the electoral votes but one, the Federalists had ceased to function as a party. As president, he acquired Florida, and also dealt with the contentious issue of slavery in new states joining the Union with the 1820 Missouri Compromise. Also, Monroe supported the work of the American Colonization Society to create a home for freed African slaves in Liberia. The period of his administration has been called the Era of Good Feelings, because of the low tension between citizens, political parties, and countries. James Monroe retired from presidency in 1825 and passed away in 1831.

Monroe's Ministries in France

By Holly Marx 13

Holly put together a power point which she delivered to our society and wrote this article to accompany it. Here is a picture of her giving the presentation and the audience looking on.

A diplomat is any person who engages in managing relations between two countries. An ambassador is a term referring to an individual designated as chief of a diplomatic mission, accredited to the head of state and representing the president or head of state. They carry out the foreign policy of the United States and aid citizens abroad. There are many types of officers, each with their own responsibilities; Consular Officers, Economic Officers, Political Officers,

Public Diplomacy Officers and Management Officers. For example, a Consular Officer is charged primarily with working with American citizens and evacuating them from the country during a natural disaster or crisis. One of the primary things a diplomat has to do is build and improve relations with his foreign host country. A diplomat also creates reports about their observations and thoughts regarding their developments that affect his home country's interests.

Now, let's take a look at James Monroe's diplomatic career. In 1794, there is a mission to France because relations between France and England were bad. President Washington tried sending new ministers to both countries. France's government didn't like Governor Morris and requested his recall. When Monroe went to Paris, after the fall of Robespierre and the Reign of Terror, he believed a more moderate government under a new constitution would improve their relations. He maintained close contact with the new government and tried to assure American neutrality in the war between France and Great Britain and of America's attachment to France. In many letters to the United States, Monroe emphasized the good aspects of the revolution and their efforts towards republicanism and stability. While in Paris, Monroe was able to obtain the release of Thomas Paine from prison. He was also able to free Madame de Lafayette, wife of Monroe's friend during the American Revolution, with help from his wife, Elizabeth Monroe. Lafayette was in prison in Austria, condemned as an émigré by French authorities. When word got out that the United States and Great Britain signed a new treaty, the French were alarmed by the news. Seeking to calm their fears, Monroe requested a copy of the treaty from John Jay, the American envoy in London who negotiated the treaty. Jay refused and the French were suspicious. Finally, Timothy Pickens, Secretary of State, urged Washington to remove Monroe, charging that Monroe disobeyed him and blamed him for the breaking down of French and American relations. Monroe returned home in December, 1797.

The Louisiana Purchase By Fiona Hodgson 13

Fiona wrote a skit about the Louisiana Purchase for the Towamencin Society C.A.R. to act out. She also prepared the props and wrote this article about the topic.

In 1794, George Washington appointed James Monroe to be the minister to France. Washington thought Monroe would be able to strengthen relations with the country. Monroe moved to France along with his family. His daughter, Elizabeth Monroe, was enrolled into the school of Madame Jeanne Campan. This school turned out to be where Hortense de Beauharnais attended, the step-daughter of Napoleon Bonaparte, a political and military leader in France. The two girls soon became friends, and the families grew close. This relationship between families helped the relationship between America and France. In 1796, Monroe and his family no longer lived in France, but the relationship was still strong. In 1801, France had acquired Louisiana from Spain. Thomas Jefferson thought that since Louisiana is so close to their land, it could be a threat to their safety. To make sure that France did not become a threat, Jefferson appointed Robert Livingston as minister to France. Jefferson also had Monroe go to France to assist Livingston in the purchase. Jefferson told Monroe this in the form of a secret code that Monroe had to decipher. Jefferson knew that he has a good connection with Napoleon, one of the most popular families in France. Monroe, Livingston, and Napoleon all attended the meeting that negotiates the Louisiana purchase. To their surprise, Napoleon wants to sell Louisiana for a fairly low price. In 1803, they all signed the Louisiana Purchase and Louisiana plus a whole lot more was back with the United States of America.

Members teamed up with potential C.A.R. members, 4H members and several DAR members and a potential member to care for a mile marker monument that has been long overgrown. The plaque was placed on the original mile marker stone from the 18th century by Shikelimo DAR chapter in 1940. The stone marked the distance on the old turnpike between Youngmanstown (Now Minburg) and Old Fort (Centre Hall, Pa.) This marker has been maintained by our local society for a few years and the old cedar bushes had overtaken it and then died. During the Summer Brian Shively removed the dead bushes. Fogel's Mulch of Lewisburg donated a truckload of mulch which was picked up by Barb Shively. Peter Gardner donated landscaping cloth. Sunday November 27th we were finally able to get a crew together to remove the remaining bush roots and weeds, place landscaping cloth and unload the whole truckload of mulch. The final touch was to plant some bulbs on the sides of the marker. The society is seeking plant thinning and bulb donations to continue with the beautification of this site. Thank you to Fogle's Mulch, Peter Gardner and Brian and Barb Shively for making this project possible.

I Just wanted to share these fabulous drawings of James Monroe by our younger members Madison Morgan, Lizzie Morgan and Bella Morgan.

Our society met in September at the Mifflinburg Buggy Museum where Susquehanna University History Student and Intern Sarah Adams taught us about digitizing museum collections. Sarah Adams recently interned at Mount Vernon and helped digitize part of their collection! She was the perfect person to do our program. Our society was allowed to handle, photograph and match descriptions of several museum collection items. We will be creating a Google slide presentation in the future about these items.

On October 15, C.A.R. meeting was held at Mrs. Gail Runshaw home. Our members each made a Colonial recipe. Jeremiah made Shoefly pie, Cara made Corn muffins, and AJ made potato balls. All the dishes were great! We used the DAR 2018 calendar to talk about Colonial clothing, and what a Fussywasit was used for. A Fussywasit piece of cloth filled with herb, spices, lavender, etc. Everyone carried them. When talking to someone they would pass the Fussywasit back and forth from their noses. That was there was a pleasant smell. Also, we talked about the tools they used as we learned to Tin Punch. Tin Punching was used on a pie safe to keep the Cribbers away from their baked goods. We also are working on Veteran children backpack for December and we are all working on Our Family trees.

Message from the State President

Dear C.A.R. Members, Seniors, and Friends,

March will be here before we know it, and that means that 74th PA C.A.R. State Conference is coming soon! You are invited to attend this t-rexific weekend to celebrate the 2017-2018 C.A.R. year and all our members have accomplished during this administration. Conference begins on Friday, March 23, 2018 and concludes with a banquet and dance the next night. Please read the following State Conference Information to learn about the activities planned for all ages.

I am especially excited about the Saturday afternoon Dinosaur and Archaeological Interactive Workshop. The Carnegie Museum of Natural History is bringing a HUGE animatronic dinosaur to us to teach us about dinosaurs and archeology. You won't want to miss it!

This year, I am asking each family that comes to conference to bring a children's book of their choice to donate to the Mountain Schools. Please include $1 to cover the cost to mail your book. This will be a great group project that will help many children.

C.A.R. Members—if you haven't come to a state conference yet, make this your first! It is going to be an amazing time packed with excitement. There will be a pool party and, my favorite part, the Saturday night dance for the members with a DJ and other awesome activities. You don't have to come to every event all weekend. If you live near the conference, you can come to just a few or all of the events. Come ready to see all your PA C.A.R. friends and make a ton more!

Over Friday evening and Saturday morning, we will name the Most Outstanding Society in PA, the Most Outstanding Member in PA, and all of the winners for every state contest. I am so proud of all the PA societies and members and all their hard work this year. I cannot wait to see what everyone has achieved. In addition, we will be announcing how much money we have raised for the state project, Uncover the Past, an effort to install educational signage at the Meadowcroft Rockshelter.

So, make plans now to attend this year's PA C.A.R. State Conference. It may just be the best weekend of your year.

Get ready for a DINO-mite time,

N.S.C.A.R. DRESS CODE

Amended October 12, 2009, April 14, 2011, December 7, 2013

The Mission Statement of the Children of the American Revolution states, in part, that the organization trains good citizens and develops leaders. This Dress Code is established to ensure that all the good citizens representing this organization, both members and seniors, present themselves in a professional, dignified manner befitting a leader. This Dress Code is in effect for all meetings of the National Society, including National Convention and Regional Meetings.

Appropriate C.A.R. Attire

Appropriate C.A.R. attire is always modest in length and exposure, well-fitting and allows the wearer to move, sit and work comfortably and respectably. Revealing clothing is not acceptable unless covered in a respectable manner.

Appropriate attire is required for all members, adults and guests at all times. The Dress Code is in effect from start of the opening session on the first day until the end of the last scheduled event and any other event as noted in the program or call to meeting.

Prior to an event, questions regarding whether an item is appropriate should be directed to the Senior State President.

Business Sessions and all Public Areas of the Hotel

In addition to the “Appropriate C.A.R. Attire” definition above, attire for business sessions must be business-like and acceptable in a corporate board room. No jeans, sweatpants, flannels/pajamas, uncovered leggings, mini-skirts, or casual attire of any kind will be allowed. Appropriate dress shoes must be worn at all times.

Ladies/Girls:	Business suits with appropriate skirt; business dresses; dress skirts and blouses; equivalent military or civil servant uniform.
Gentlemen/Boys:	Suit and tie; sport jacket, slacks, shirt and tie; equivalent military or civil servant uniform. Coats may not be removed during the business session. Hats may not be worn indoors at any time, except when involved in a special presentation or event.

Banquet and Formal Dance

In addition to the “Appropriate C.A.R. Attire” definition above, attire for the banquet and formal dance must be acceptable at any “Black Tie Optional” gathering. No jeans, sweatpants, flannels/pajamas, uncovered leggings, mini-skirts, or casual attire of any kind will be allowed. Appropriate dress shoes must be worn at all times.

Ladies/Girls:	Evening gown; ball gown; respectable length dress; equivalent military or civil servant uniform. An evening wrap is suggested due to air conditioning.
Gentlemen/Boys:	Tuxedo; suit and tie; sport jacket, slacks, shirt and tie; equivalent military or civil servant uniform. Coats may not be removed during the Banquet or Formal Dance. Hats may not be worn at any time, except when involved in a special presentation or event.

Relaxing of Dress Code

Dress Code may be relaxed for special-themed events, parties or other casual events. Casual attire should be appropriate for the activity and conform to the “Appropriate C.A.R. Attire” definition above. Appropriate footwear must be worn at all times.

The program/call to meeting will specify when the Dress Code has been relaxed and appropriate casual attire is allowed.

Enforcement

The Code of Behavior, which includes the Dress Code, is enforced by the Administrative Committee. During an event, questions and suspected violations of this code may be referred to the Senior Chairman of the Administrative Committee and designated senior leader for review and action as prescribed in the Code of Behavior.

Issues and concerns not specifically outlined in this Dress Code will be addressed on a case by case basis.

Hello PA CAR,

I hope you are all excited as we approach the holiday season. There's many ways to incorporate winter holidays into your meeting and your search for new members. I know my society always hosts a Christmas tea where we invite some senior state officers and have snacks. Show the Keystone Kapers the ways your society celebrates by sending us your pictures! December is a season of gifts and joy, but it is also the season of giving. Make your season special by donating money to a charity or volunteering at a local food pantry.

When the snow comes (if it does this year) try building a snow dinosaur for our State president's program: Uncover the Past. And as always, keep reading the Keystone kapers to see what fun events other societies are doing and look for your society too!
